Will Parley on Education Do Any Good?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The men and women taking part in the President's White House Conference on Education opening today would like to think it will do good. Will it? Or will it be just a lot of people letting off steam?

The delegates include educators, labor, farm and civic leaders, businessmen and clergymen. They may, in spite of their varied views on how to get more schools and teachers, reach some majority opinions without explosions. But they still seem to face a triple problem of time, politics and money.

This conference has had a buildup for almost two years, a lot of surface countryside interest. President Eisenhower proposed it in a message to Congress Jan. 7, 1954.

Then he created a committee of 34 men and women to advise him on what the government should do about the country's educational needs.

Since then, and at the committee's suggestion, all the states and territories have had their own conferences to discuss what they thought needed to be done.

Reports on all those states' conferences were supposed to be sent to the committee. Not all of them have arrived yet. Only about five states took the trouble to print and bind their reports

This writer saw them and the unbound reports in the committee's files. Some of those unbound ones appear so disorganized that — if they are a true reflection of what happened at the state conference — those conferences must have been chaos.

There is disagreement among the states, and within the individual state conferences, on whether the states should have federal aid. That question — federal aid to education — will probably be the most explosive at this conference.

Meanwhile, state officials — governors and educators — appointed delegates to this convention. They didn't necessarily have to be he same people who took part in their states' conference, and some of them apparently don't have to be guided by what their state conferences agreed on.

When this conference finishes up Thursday, its reports on recommendations will be turned over to the President's committee. That committee doesn't have to be bound by the action of this conference.

This is where the time element enters. The 34-member committee which Eisenhower created to advise him doesn't meet to decide on recommendations until Jan. 16

But probably before then — perhaps in the first 10 days of January — Eisenhower will send his State of the Union message to Congress, a natural vehicle for any recommendations he wants to make on education.

He could hardly make any specific recommendations unless he had been informed long before the committee's Jan. 16 meeting what its recommendations were likely to be.

But if he makes specific recommendations before he gets the committee's report then a question arises: Why the committee at all and why the conferences?

He could speak in general terms about education and later, after getting the committee's recommendations, send a special message to Congress on education.

But apparently no matter what this conference or Eisenhower' committee recomends on federal aid to education, that subject will be up to its neck in politics any way.

The Democrats run Congress. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader in the Senate, said a week ago his party would push for federal aid to education. f Eisenhower asks for federal aid plus other things, he'll be dealing with Democrat in an election year. They'll have ideas of their own, no doubt.

But any proposal on federal aid will run smack into the Eisenhow. The Republican want t cut expense and balance the budget in 1956, an election year.

DOGS

TRAINING YOUR PUPPY

A puppy is a very simple little animal. All he wants in life is a reasonable comfortable home, nourishing food, care when he is sick—and just one more thing—he wants to please you and make you proud of him.

Your number one training task is to teach him the meaning of the word "No". For his instant obedience to this single command is essential not only for your convenience but for his happiness.

It is almost impossible for a puppy trained to respond to the command "No" to form bad habits.

Don't use the command any more than you have to. You mustn't make the poor pup think that the whole world is off limits. And never, never say "No" unless you absolutely mean it and unless you can enforce it. But start early, keep everlastingly at it, and if you never teach him another thing in his whole life, you will still have a fairly well behaved dog.

You will also have a happy dog, because the thing he wants most in life is to please you. Since a dog can't draw fine lines between right and wrong, he needs things labeled clearly. A "No" will provide the label.

But one word of warning, don't change labels on him or it will only serve to mix him up. Don't allow him to jump on you when you have your old clothes on,n and then try to teach him not to jump on you when you have on your Sunday best. And don't let him chew your old slipper and then forbid him to gnaw on your new shoes. Decide what is to be off limits and use the "No" to put it there and keep it there.

Blevins Wins Four While Losing Seven

History repeated itself this year at Blevins as the Hornets ended up their 1955 football season again with a Won 4 and Lost 7 record.

The Hornets had lost 8 regulars but had 11 letterman returning 12 other players who did not play last year. Coach Russell Stephens had help this year with the team as Connie L. Horton joined the Blevins faculty and took over the duties of line coach as well as teaching.

The Hornets played 11 games, two of them at home and the rest away. Six were 7B conference games, four of them against 7A teams and the game with the Smackover Buckaroos a 7AA tilt. Blevins opened the season against the Go-Devils of Gurdon and lost 27 to 6. Olen Hill scared the daylights and night lights out of the Gurdon team on the second play of the game as he blasted right through their line and rambled 65 yards for the only Hornet score.

Next came the Murfreesboro Rattlers, who the Hornets had whipped twice last year, but this time it was different; Blevins lost 25 to 0. The Hempstead county lads journeyed to Ashdown for their third loss, 41 to 0. Next came the Curly Wolves of Prescott to the Blevins Gridiron, and the home boys showed off to the home crowd by downing the Nevada county boys 27 to 0. Arthur Willis made two identical touchdown runs of 50 yards each, and Douglas Steed and Co-Capt. Bruce picked up the other two tallies. This game was played in a chilling rain throughout, but the home rooters stuck it out.

The team traveled to Smackover the next week and came out on the short end of a 38 to 13 score. Willis passed to Smith for one score and hit the Buck line for the other to score the most points against Smackover up to that date.

The Hornets came home the next week for their game with the Hampton Bulldogs which was also homecoming. Miss Audria Lea Porterfield was choosen Homecoming Queen and Miss Salley Stone and Miss Nova Lynn Wilson were chosen maids to reign over the game.

It was a perfect day for Blevins with 47 points; not too good for the Bulldogs who went scoreless. Olen Hill led the parade with 14 points, Arthur Willis came next with 13, and also the longest run of the season with 70 yards, Douglas Steed picked up 12 points in the hard way right through the line, Almer Willis scored once on and end around and Bruce Smith caught two extra point passes and that totals 47 for us.

Stamps Yellowjackets came next and outstung the Hornets 47 to 7. Doug Steed scored for Blevins, everybody scored for Stamps. The Hornets spoiled Prescott's homecoming the next week 2 to 7 with Arthur Willis and Douglas Steed doing the honors. Mineral Springs had a good night the following week 38 to 13. James Stephenson scored 5 times for the winners and Arthur Willis and Forrest Hutson tallied for the Hornets.

Blevins won its last game of the season and wrecked another homecoming by whooping Foreman 19 to 7. Willis, Hill and Smith provided the winning punch for Blevins and that ended the Hornets scoring for the season as Lewisville beat them 14 to 0 their last game.

Arthur Willis led the team in scoring this year with 50 points, 9 touchdowns and 6 extra points. Douglas Steed followed Arthur with 33 points, 5 T. D.'s and 3 p. a. t. Olen Hill was next with 27 points, 4 tallies and 3 points after. Co-Capt. Bruce Smith scored 20 ponits with 3 touchdowns and 2 extra points and Almer Willis and Forrest Hutson each had 1 touchdown.

The Hornet's made 152 points for the season, gained 1945 yards rushing, attempted 115 passes, completed 60 for 870 yards and made 130 first downs. This was the second year for the Hornets to have a football team since 1940 and 9 regulars will be lost by graduation. Cheer Leaders for the Hornets this year were: Iantha Don Hampton, Grecia Wortham, Judy Scott, Jo Beth Nolen and Nell Jean Bonds.

U. S. Aid to Build Schools Is Likely

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were strong indications today that the President's White House Conference on Education will recommend federal aid to the nation's schools, at least for building new classrooms.

But if it's as vague on that as it was yesterday on why there are not enough classrooms, it will leave the question high in the air.

Federal aid for schools is the hottest question facing the men and women who came here from the 48 states and territories for this meeting which ends today. It's possible they'll explode over it.

But they were far from explosive yesterday when they sat around 166 tables, exchanged ideas on why they don't have enough schools, and then approved a report which was a consensus of what they felt and thought.

That report was so careful, and long-winded, it looked like a diplomatic pronouncement by the State Department at one of those times when it wants to make a statement for the record without being very positive about anything.

This was that the report said: "No state represented has demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years. But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Boiled down, this said: No state represented at the conference had shown it couldn't afford to pay for the classrooms it needed. Just because they hadn't shown they couldn't afford it, this didn't mean they could afford it.

Then the conference left the door open for itself by adding another sentence:

"Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

With that addition the conference got itself on record as saying that if the states ever got around to building the schools they need, some might be able to pay their own way and maybe some couldn't.

But the report wasn't clear at all when it said, "With the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Who was being shot at there? The home-state politicians? Or the people back home for not putting enough heat on their state and local politicians to get the needed classrooms.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Some of our dogs are blessed with coats that, though they give us plenty of grooming trouble, are efficent insulation against both heat and cold.

In New York State, I know Newfoundlands that don't want any part of a house, even in coldest weather. They'd rather sleep in snow than straw. Many of the double coated dogs like Old English Sheepdogs. Labradors, Briards, and the sled dogs are similarly blessed.

But our pointing, flushing and hound breeds, with the possible exception of the heaviest coated of the wire haired pointing breeds, must be provided for when cold weather arrives.

It has been my contention that it is cheaper to keep a dog in proper condition through the cold winter months by adequate housing than by the extra feeding that will be necessary if a dog is not protected from the elements.

Sometimes a kennell location is such that the structure must conform to the landscaping and other buildings. Usually, however, we need be less concerned with the appearance of a dog house than its effectiveness.

There are so many ways to make a dog weather-snug and so many different kinds of materials available that nearly everyone can come by material that will do the trick with little or no expense.

A stout barrel may do the trick. Brace it steady, close the end excepting for a hole just large enough to accomodate the dog, add a projecting roof or, better yet, a vestibule and burlap flap and fill with straw.

Wooden packing cases are a start. Double the floor whenever possible, cover with roofing paper (to shingle, the roof must be pitched), rig an opening, porch or vestibule and fill with bedding.

For bedding straw, hay, cedar ribbon, cedar shavings or stripped paper may be used.

There are several cardinal points which should be kept in mind.

Face the entrance away from prevailing winds, and keep the volume of the house as small as is practical for the dog's size so that his body heat will not be dissipated trying to warm a large volume.

Do not use metal next to the dog. Double the floor, if not the walls and roof, when possible. Keep bedding dry and add to it when it becomes compressed so the bedding occupies as much of the volume as possible .

Make use of space in garages, barns, vestibules and such wherever possible. (A flapped entrance through a cellar window into a nest suspended from the floor above makes a good rig.)

Will Parley on Education Do Any Good?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The men and women taking part in the President's White House Conference on Education opening today would like to think it will do good. Will it? Or will it be just a lot of people letting off steam?

The delegates include educators, labor, farm and civic leaders, businessmen and clergymen. They may, in spite of their varied views on how to get more schools and teachers, reach some majority opinions without explosions. But they still seem to face a triple problem of time, politics and money.

This conference has had a build-up for almost two years, a lot of surface countryside interest. President Eisenhower proposed it in a message to Congress Jan. 7, 1954.

Then he created a committee of 34 men and women to advise him on what the government should do about the country's educational needs.

Since then, and at the committee's suggestion, all the states and territories have had their own conferences to discuss what they thought needed to be done.

Reports on all those states' conferences were supposed to be sent to the committee. Not all of them have arrived yet. Only about five states took the trouble to print and bind their reports

This writer saw them and the unbound reports in the committee's files. Some of those unbound ones appear so disorganized that — if they are a true reflection of what happened at the state conference — those conferences must have been chaos.

There is disagreement among the states, and within the individual state conferences, on whether the states should have federal aid. That question — federal aid to education — will probably be the most explosive at this conference.

Meanwhile, state officials — governors and educators — appointed delegates to this convention. They didn't necessarily have to be he same people who took part in their states' conference, and some of them apparently don't have to be guided by what their state conferences agreed on.

When this conference finishes up Thursday, its reports on recommendations will be turned over to the President's committee. That committee doesn't have to be bound by the action of this conference.

This is where the time element enters. The 34-member committee which Eisenhower created to advise him doesn't meet to decide on recommendations until Jan. 16

But probably before then — perhaps in the first 10 days of January — Eisenhower will send his State of the Union message to Congress, a natural vehicle for any recommendations he wants to make on education.

He could hardly make any specific recommendations unless he had been informed long before the committee's Jan. 16 meeting what its recommendations were likely to be.

But if he makes specific recommendations before he gets the committee's report then a question arises: Why the committee at all and why the conferences?

He could speak in general terms about education and later, after getting the committee's recommendations, send a special message to Congress on education.

But apparently no matter what this conference or Eisenhower' committee recomends on federal aid to education, that subject will be up to its neck in politics any way.

The Democrats run Congress. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader in the Senate, said a week ago his party would push for federal aid to education. f Eisenhower asks for federal aid plus other things, he'll be dealing with Democrat in an election year. They'll have ideas of their own, no doubt.

But any proposal on federal aid will run smack into the Eisenhow. The Republican want t cut expense and balance the budget in 1956, an election year.

DOGS

TRAINING YOUR PUPPY

A puppy is a very simple little animal. All he wants in life is a reasonable comfortable home, nourishing food, care when he is sick—and just one more thing—he wants to please you and make you proud of him.

Your number one training task is to teach him the meaning of the word "No". For his instant obedience to this single command is essential not only for your convenience but for his happiness.

It is almost impossible for a puppy trained to respond to the command "No" to form bad habits.

Don't use the command any more than you have to. You mustn't make the poor pup think that the whole world is off limits. And never, never say "No" unless you absolutely mean it and unless you can enforce it. But start early, keep everlastingly at it, and if you never teach him another thing in his whole life, you will still have a fairly well behaved dog.

You will also have a happy dog, because the thing he wants most in life is to please you. Since a dog can't draw fine lines between right and wrong, he needs things labeled clearly. A "No" will provide the label.

But one word of warning, don't change labels on him or it will only serve to mix him up. Don't allow him to jump on you when you have your old clothes on,n and then try to teach him not to jump on you when you have on your Sunday best. And don't let him chew your old slipper and then forbid him to gnaw on your new shoes. Decide what is to be off limits and use the "No" to put it there and keep it there.

Blevins Wins Four While Losing Seven

History repeated itself this year at Blevins as the Hornets ended up their 1955 football season again with a Won 4 and Lost 7 record.

The Hornets had lost 8 regulars but had 11 letterman returning 12 other players who did not play last year. Coach Russell Stephens had help this year with the team as Connie L. Horton joined the Blevins faculty and took over the duties of line coach as well as teaching.

The Hornets played 11 games, two of them at home and the rest away. Six were 7B conference games, four of them against 7A teams and the game with the Smackover Buckaroos a 7AA tilt. Blevins opened the season against the Go-Devils of Gurdon and lost 27 to 6. Olen Hill scared the daylights and night lights out of the Gurdon team on the second play of the game as he blasted right through their line and rambled 65 yards for the only Hornet score.

Next came the Murfreesboro Rattlers, who the Hornets had whipped twice last year, but this time it was different; Blevins lost 25 to 0. The Hempstead county lads journeyed to Ashdown for their third loss, 41 to 0. Next came the Curly Wolves of Prescott to the Blevins Gridiron, and the home boys showed off to the home crowd by downing the Nevada county boys 27 to 0. Arthur Willis made two identical touchdown runs of 50 yards each, and Douglas Steed and Co-Capt. Bruce picked up the other two tallies. This game was played in a chilling rain throughout, but the home rooters stuck it out.

The team traveled to Smackover the next week and came out on the short end of a 38 to 13 score. Willis passed to Smith for one score and hit the Buck line for the other to score the most points against Smackover up to that date.

The Hornets came home the next week for their game with the Hampton Bulldogs which was also homecoming. Miss Audria Lea Porterfield was choosen Homecoming Queen and Miss Salley Stone and Miss Nova Lynn Wilson were chosen maids to reign over the game.

It was a perfect day for Blevins with 47 points; not too good for the Bulldogs who went scoreless. Olen Hill led the parade with 14 points, Arthur Willis came next with 13, and also the longest run of the season with 70 yards, Douglas Steed picked up 12 points in the hard way right through the line, Almer Willis scored once on and end around and Bruce Smith caught two extra point passes and that totals 47 for us.

Stamps Yellowjackets came next and outstung the Hornets 47 to 7. Doug Steed scored for Blevins, everybody scored for Stamps. The Hornets spoiled Prescott's homecoming the next week 2 to 7 with Arthur Willis and Douglas Steed doing the honors. Mineral Springs had a good night the following week 38 to 13. James Stephenson scored 5 times for the winners and Arthur Willis and Forrest Hutson tallied for the Hornets.

Blevins won its last game of the season and wrecked another homecoming by whooping Foreman 19 to 7. Willis, Hill and Smith provided the winning punch for Blevins and that ended the Hornets scoring for the season as Lewisville beat them 14 to 0 their last game.

Arthur Willis led the team in scoring this year with 50 points, 9 touchdowns and 6 extra points. Douglas Steed followed Arthur with 33 points, 5 T. D.'s and 3 p. a. t. Olen Hill was next with 27 points, 4 tallies and 3 points after. Co-Capt. Bruce Smith scored 20 ponits with 3 touchdowns and 2 extra points and Almer Willis and Forrest Hutson each had 1 touchdown.

The Hornet's made 152 points for the season, gained 1945 yards rushing, attempted 115 passes, completed 60 for 870 yards and made 130 first downs. This was the second year for the Hornets to have a football team since 1940 and 9 regulars will be lost by graduation. Cheer Leaders for the Hornets this year were: Iantha Don Hampton, Grecia Wortham, Judy Scott, Jo Beth Nolen and Nell Jean Bonds.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Some of our dogs are blessed with coats that, though they give us plenty of grooming trouble, are efficent insulation against both heat and cold.

In New York State, I know Newfoundlands that don't want any part of a house, even in coldest weather. They'd rather sleep in snow than straw. Many of the double coated dogs like Old English Sheepdogs. Labradors, Briards, and the sled dogs are similarly blessed.

But our pointing, flushing and hound breeds, with the possible exception of the heaviest coated of the wire haired pointing breeds, must be provided for when cold weather arrives.

It has been my contention that it is cheaper to keep a dog in proper condition through the cold winter months by adequate housing than by the extra feeding that will be necessary if a dog is not protected from the elements.

Sometimes a kennell location is such that the structure must conform to the landscaping and other buildings. Usually, however, we need be less concerned with the appearance of a dog house than its effectiveness.

There are so many ways to make a dog weather-snug and so many different kinds of materials available that nearly everyone can come by material that will do the trick with little or no expense.

A stout barrel may do the trick. Brace it steady, close the end excepting for a hole just large enough to accomodate the dog, add a projecting roof or, better yet, a vestibule and burlap flap and fill with straw.

Wooden packing cases are a start. Double the floor whenever possible, cover with roofing paper (to shingle, the roof must be pitched), rig an opening, porch or vestibule and fill with bedding.

For bedding straw, hay, cedar ribbon, cedar shavings or stripped paper may be used.

There are several cardinal points which should be kept in mind.

Face the entrance away from prevailing winds, and keep the volume of the house as small as is practical for the dog's size so that his body heat will not be dissipated trying to warm a large volume.

Do not use metal next to the dog. Double the floor, if not the walls and roof, when possible. Keep bedding dry and add to it when it becomes compressed so the bedding occupies as much of the volume as possible.

U. S. Aid to Build Schools Is Likely

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were strong indications today that the President's White House Conference on Education will recommend federal aid to the nation's schools, at least for building new classrooms.

But if it's as vague on that as it was yesterday on why there are not enough classrooms, it will leave the question high in the air.

Federal aid for schools is the hottest question facing the men and women who came here from the 48 states and territories for this meeting which ends today. It's possible they'll explode over it.

But they were far from explosive yesterday when they sat around 166 tables, exchanged ideas on why they don't have enough schools, and then approved a report which was a consensus of what they felt and thought.

That report was so careful, and long-winded, it looked like a diplomatic pronouncement by the State Department at one of those times when it wants to make a statement for the record without being very positive about anything.

This was that the report said: "No state represented has demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years. But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Boiled down, this said: No state represented at the conference had shown it couldn't afford to pay for the classrooms it needed. Just because they hadn't shown they couldn't afford it, this didn't mean they could afford it.

Then the conference left the door open for itself by adding another sentence:

"Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

With that addition the conference got itself on record as saying that if the states ever got around to building the schools they need, some might be able to pay their own way and maybe some couldn't.

But the report wasn't clear at all when it said, "With the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Who was being shot at there? The home-state politicians? Or the people back home for not putting enough heat on their state and local politicians to get the needed classrooms.

Will Parley on Education Do Any Good?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The men and women taking part in the President's White House Conference on Education opening today would like to think it will do good. Will it? Or will it be just a lot of people letting off steam?

The delegates include educators, labor, farm and civic leaders, businessmen and clergymen. They may, in spite of their varied views on how to get more schools and teachers, reach some majority opinions without explosions. But they still seem to face a triple problem of time, politics and money.

This conference has had a buildup for almost two years, a lot of surface countryside interest. President Eisenhower proposed it in a message to Congress Jan. 7, 1954.

Then he created a committee of 34 men and women to advise him on what the government should do about the country's educational needs.

Since then, and at the committee's suggestion, all the states and territories have had their own con ferences to discuss what they thought needed to be done.

Reports on all those states ' conferences were supposed to be sent to the committee. Not all of them have arrived yet. Only about five states took the trouble to print and bind their reports

This writer saw them and the unbound reports in the committee's files. Some of those unbound ones appear so disorganized that — if they are a true reflection of what happened at the state conference — those conferences must have been chaos.

There is disagreement among the states, and within the individual state conferences, on whether the states should have federal aid. That question — federal aid to education — will probably be the most explosive at this conference.

Meanwhile, state officials — governors and educators — appointed delegates to this convention. They didn't necessarily have to be he same people who took part in their states' conference, and some of them apparently don't have to be guided by what their state conferences agreed on.

When this conference finishes up Thursday, its reports on recommendations will be turned over to the President's committee. That committee doesn't have to be bound by the action of this conference.

This is where the time element enters. The 34-member committee which Eisenhower created to advise him doesn't meet to decide on recommendations until Jan. 16

But probably before then — perhaps in the first 10 days of January — Eisenhower will send his State of the Union message to Congress, a natural vehicle for any recommendations he wants to make on education.

He could hardly make any specific recommendations unless he had been informed long before the committee's Jan. 16 meeting what its recommendations were likely to be.

But if he makes specific recommendations before he gets the committee's report then a question arises: Why the committee at all and why the conferences?

He could speak in general terms about education and later, after getting the committee's recom mendations, send a special message to Congress on education.

But apparently no matter what this conference or Eisenhower' committee recomends on federal aid to education, that subject will be up to its neck in politics any way,

The Democrats run Congress. Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader in the Senate, said a week ago his party would push for federal aid to education. f Eisenhower asks for federal aid plus other things, he'll be dealing with Democrat in an election year. They'll have ideas of their own, no doubt.

But any propoal on federal aid will run smack into the Eisenhow. The Republican want t cut expense and balance the budget in 1956, an election year.

DOGS

TRAINING YOUR PUPPY

A puppy is a very simple little animal. All he wants in life is a reasonable comfortable home, nourishing food, care when he is sick—and just one more thing—he wants to please you and make you proud of him.

Your number one training task is to teach him the meaning of the word "No". For his instant obedience to this single command is essential not only for your convenience but for his happiness.

It is almost impossible for a puppy trained to respond to the command "No" to form bad habits.

Don't use the command any more than you have to. You mustn't make the poor pup think that the whole world is off limits. And never, never say "No" unless you absolutely mean it and unless you can enforce it. But start early, keep everlastingly at it, and if you never teach him another thing in his whole life, you will still have a fairly well behaved dog.

You will also have a happy dog, because the thing he wants most in life is to please you. Since a dog can't draw fine lines between right and wrong, he needs things labeled clearly. A "No" will provide the label.

But one word of warning, don't change labels on him or it will only serve to mix him up. Don't allow him to jump on you when you have your old clothes on,n and then try to teach him not to jump on you when you have on your Sunday best. And don't let him chew your old slipper and then forbid him to gnaw on your new shoes. Decide what is to be off limits and use the "No" to put it there and keep it there.

Blevins Wins Four While Losing Seven

History repeated itself this year at Blevins as the Hornets ended up their 1955 football season again with a Won 4 and Lost 7 record.

The Hornets had lost 8 regulars but had 11 letterman returning 12 other players who did not play last year. Coach Russell Stephens had help this year with the team as Connie L. Horton joined the Blevins faculty and took over the duties of line coach as well as teaching.

The Hornets played 11 games, two of them at home and the rest away. Six were 7B conference games, four of them against 7A teams and the game with the Smackover Buckaroos a 7AA tilt. Blevins opened the season against the Go-Devils of Gurdon and lost 27 to 6. Olen Hill scared the daylights and night lights out of the Gurdon team on the second play of the game as he blasted right through their line and rambled 65 yards for the only Hornet score.

Next came the Murfreesboro Rattlers, who the Hornets had whipped twice last year, but this time it was different; Blevins lost 25 to 0. The Hempstead county lads journeyed to Ashdown for their third loss, 41 to 0. Next came the Curly Wolves of Prescott to the Blevins Gridiron, and the home boys showed off to the home crowd by downing the Nevada county boys 27 to 0. Arthur Willis made two identical touchdown runs of 50 yards each, and Douglas Steed and Co-Capt. Bruce picked up the other two tallies. This game was played in a chilling rain throughout, but the home rooters stuck it out.

The team traveled to Smackover the next week and came out on the short end of a 38 to 13 score. Willis passed to Smith for one score and hit the Buck line for the other to score the most points against Smackover up to that date.

The Hornets came home the next week for their game with the Hampton Bulldogs which was also homecoming. Miss Audria Lea Porterfield was choosen Homecoming Queen and Miss Salley Stone and Miss Nova Lynn Wilson were chosen maids to reign over the game.

It was a perfect day for Blevins with 47 points; not too good for the Bulldogs who went scoreless. Olen Hill led the parade with 14 points, Arthur Willis came next with 13, and also the longest run of the season with 70 yards, Douglas Steed picked up 12 points in the hard way right through the line, Almer Willis scored once on and end around and Bruce Smith caught two extra point passes and that totals 47 for us.

Stamps Yellowjackets came next and outstung the Hornets 47 to 7. Doug Steed scored for Blevins, everybody scored for Stamps. The Hornets spoiled Prescott's homecoming the next week 2 to 7 with Arthur Willis and Douglas Steed doing the honors. Mineral Springs had a good night the following week 38 to 13. James Stephenson scored 5 times for the winners and Arthur Willis and Forrest Hutson tallied for the Hornets.

Blevins won its last game of the season and wrecked another homecoming by whooping Foreman 19 to 7. Willis, Hill and Smith provided the winning punch for Blevins and that ended the Hornets scoring for the season as Lewisville beat them 14 to 0 their last game.

Arthur Willis led the team in scoring this year with 50 points, 9 touchdowns and 6 extra points. Douglas Steed followed Arthur with 33 points, 5 T. D.'s and 3 p. a. t. Olen Hill was next with 27 points, 4 tallies and 3 points after. Co-Capt. Bruce Smith scored 20 ponits with 3 touchdowns and 2 extra points and Almer Willis and Forrest Hutson each had 1 touchdown.

The Hornet's made 152 points for the season, gained 1945 yards rushing, attempted 115 passes, completed 60 for 870 yards and made 130 first downs. This was the second year for the Hornets to have a football team since 1940 and 9 regulars will be lost by graduation. Cheer Leaders for the Hornets this year were: Iantha Don Hampton, Grecia Wortham, Judy Scott, Jo Beth Nolen and Nell Jean Bonds.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

Some of our dogs are blessed with coats that, though they give us plenty of grooming trouble, are efficent insulation against both heat and cold.

In New York State, I know Newfoundlands that don't want any part of a house, even in coldest weather. They'd rather sleep in snow than straw. Many of the double coated dogs like Old English Sheepdogs. Labradors, Briards, and the sled dogs are similarly blessed.

But our pointing, flushing and hound breeds, with the possible exception of the heaviest coated of the wire haired pointing breeds, must be provided for when cold weather arrives.

It has been my contention that it is cheaper to keep a dog in proper condition through the cold winter months by adequate housing than by the extra feeding that will be necessary if a dog is not protected from the elements.

Sometimes a kennell location is such that the structure must conform to the landscaping and other buildings. Usually, however, we need be less concerned with the appearance of a dog house than its effectiveness.

There are so many ways to make a dog weather-snug and so many different kinds of materials available that nearly everyone can come by material that will do the trick with little or no expense.

A stout barrel may do the trick. Brace it steady, close the end excepting for a hole just large enough to accomodate the dog, add a projecting roof or, better yet, a vestibule and burlap flap and fill with straw.

Wooden packing cases are a start. Double the floor whenever possible, cover with roofing paper (to shingle, the roof must be pitched), rig an opening, porch or vestibule and fill with bedding.

For bedding straw, hay, cedar ribbon, cedar shavings or stripped paper may be used.

There are several cardinal points which should be kept in mind.

Face the entrance away from prevailing winds, and keep the volume of the house as small as is practical for the dog's size so that his body heat will not be dissipated trying to warm a large volume.

Do not use metal next to the dog. Double the floor, if not the walls and roof, when possible. Keep bedding dry and add to it when it becomes compressed so the bedding occupies as much of the volume as possible.

U. S. Aid to Build Schools Is Likely

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were strong indications today that the President's White House Conference on Education will recommend federal aid to the nation's schools, at least for building new classrooms.

But if it's as vague on that as it was yesterday on why there are not enough classrooms, it will leave the question high in the air.

Federal aid for schools is the hottest question facing the men and women who came here from the 48 states and territories for this meeting which ends today. It's possible they'll explode over it.

But they were far from explosive yesterday when they sat around 166 tables, exchanged ideas on why they don't have enough schools, and then approved a report which was a consensus of what they felt and thought.

That report was so careful, and long-winded, it looked like a diplomatic pronouncement by the State Department at one of those times when it wants to make a statement for the record without being very positive about anything.

This was that the report said: "No state represented has demonstrated financial incapacity to build the schools it will need during the next five years. But, with the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Boiled down, this said: No state represented at the conference had shown it couldn't afford to pay for the classrooms it needed. Just because they hadn't shown they couldn't afford it, this didn't mean they could afford it.

Then the conference left the door open for itself by adding another sentence:

"Some territories and a few states may need outside financial assistance."

With that addition the conference got itself on record as saying that if the states ever got around to building the schools they need, some might be able to pay their own way and maybe some couldn't.

But the report wasn't clear at all when it said, "With the exception of a few states, none of the states presently has plans which indicate a political determination powerful enough to overcome all of the obstacles."

Who was being shot at there? The home-state politicians? Or the people back home for not putting enough heat on their state and local politicians to get the needed classrooms.
